

Revolvers Not Needed In Denver Hold-Up

Denver, Dec. 15—Highwaymen have introduced a change in the general order of things here. Two foot-pads attired in winding sheets with white sacks over their heads, perpetrated two hold-ups in Denver last night. Two men who claimed to have been robbed by the ghostly appearing highwaymen reported to the police to-day. Each victim declared the revolvers the robber carried were unnecessary, as the masquerade costumes were enough to frighten them into giving up their valuables.

Citizen Out For Female Suffrage

(From Yuma Examiner)

The Tucson Citizen yesterday afternoon comes out editorially and announces that the policy of the paper in the future will be for female suffrage for Arizona, and calls upon its readers to lend a hand in the launching of a state wide movement to pass an equal suffrage amendment through the coming session of the legislature. The Citizen states that it will co-operate with the Arizona Equal Suffrage central committee in its work in behalf of equal suffrage for the new state.

Rush Is On In Christmas Mail

Christmas rush is on at the Yuma postoffice and for the next week all hands from Postmaster Chandler down will have all they can do.

For this reason and to avoid a long wait at the postoffice get your Christmas packages in early—the earlier the better not only for yourself but for all concerned.

Admission Day Will Be Holiday

Delegate Ralph Cameron, Hon. M. Smith, The Tucson Citizen and others are busily engaged now in a movement to have admission day for Arizona made a general holiday, not only in Arizona, but all over the country, as Arizona is the last of the territories to come in.

Delegate Cameron will leave in a few days for Washington, to complete his work there and he will introduce the resolution at once.

Wool Grower Had Kick to Make

Omaha, Dec. 15—"A wool tariff that will protect," was the subject of an address by F. A. Ellinwood, of Red Bluffs, California, at to-day's session of the National Wool Growers' convention. His address was in the nature of a protest against what he termed the "unfair treatment of the grower by the manufacturer."

He declared that a "compensatory duty" was too high because based on the false assumption that the duty on first grade wool was equal to 35c a pound computed on a secured basis.

He produced figures to show that the wool in a $50 suit brings the grower only $2.00.

Other addresses were on the practical work of sheep growing.

Animals Walk to Death

Portland, Ore., Dec. 15—The walking disease which has caused the death of hundreds of horses and cattle and sheep in eastern Oregon, is a malignant type of hydrophobia according to tests made by Dr. E. G. Perrot, the state bacteriologist. The disease is defined as to classification and the name given from the peculiar actions of the infected animals. They walk continually and their efforts to follow moving objects invariably proves fatal.

Frank Hodges Suffers Badly Broken Arm

(From Monday's Daily Examiner)

To-day at noon, Frank Hodges, of the Yuma Meat Market, met with an accident which will cause him much pain and which will keep him away from business for quite awhile. It was a compound fracture of the right arm.

Mr. Hodges was riding his bay saddle horse at a gallop, and just as he went to turn the corner of Third street and Madison avenue, the horse stumbled and fell, Mr. Hodges falling in such a way that his right arm was broken near the elbow, the splintered bone protruding through the skin, and suffering other bruises.

County School Superintendent John M. Hess was near and ran to the injured man's assistance and Physicians Knotts and ApJohn were hurriedly summoned. The injured man was removed to the ApJohn hospital where the wound was dressed and later he was removed to his home on Orange avenue.

Work Progresses On Tempe Bridge

Tempe, Dec. 15—The work on the territorial bridge is moving along very nicely. Concrete has been poured in the cylinders on piers 4 and 6 and around the steel reinforcements. The cylinders on pier 5 have been forced down to bedrock and the concrete work on this pier will probably be finished this week. The work will then be transferred to pier 7, and as soon as that is completed work on the concrete superstructure will be begun.

A large force of men is now working on the job and the work is moving along in a satisfactory manner.

Arizona Oranges Reach Record Prices

Phoenix, Dec. 15—Half boxes of oranges at $4.25 touched the highest record ever obtained on Arizona Navels, when the North American Fruit Exchange sold the first car of the season in New York on Monday.

Democrats Are Yelling Three Years for Us

(From Monday's Examiner)

The Arizona Democrat, of Phoenix, comes out yesterday afternoon with the positive statement that the Democrats elected last Tuesday will hold for three years, and that there will be no election in Arizona in 1912 as to state and county officers.

Whether the editor of the Democrat is suffered from the effects of a swelled head over the returns of the election, whether he was congratulating himself over the election of a Democratic supreme court, or whether it was a new brand that he got hold of after the election, is not known to this paper, but certainly he forgets that whatever the constitution of the new state of Arizona provides, that the enabling act under which Arizona was admitted expressly provides for a general election in 1912.

When Brother Dunbar wakes up from that three year dream, he will find himself as disagreeably surprised as was "Little Nemo" Winsor after the primary election.

Shipment of Cattle

Fifteen hundred head of cattle passed through Yuma last night from Sonora, Mexico, en route to California, and were fed and watered here.

C. W. Martin, a boyhood friend of W. W. Low, was in charge of the shipment.

The Yuma Ice Company's soda water is the best. Only pure distilled water is used in its manufacture, therefore it is also the most healthful drink no other.

The Yuma Ice Company's Extra Dry Ginger Ale is on sale wherever drinks are sold. Try it.

Political Pie to Be Cut in Yuma County

(From Monday's Daily Examiner)

As predicted some time ago in the Examiner there is a merry scramble on now for the appointive jobs under the new Democratic county administration. For the office of clerk of the board of supervisors there are several names mentioned. Among them are P. J. Miller, Roy Hansberger and S. Frank Stanley, and one or two others. It is said that Miller will make a hard fight to retain his position, but that so far only one supervisor has promised his support to Miller.

Of the other names mentioned Roy Hansberger and S. Frank Stanley seem to have the best chance and it may be that this plum will go to one or the other of the young men, both of whom are entirely competent to fill the position.

For the office of Under Sheriff of Yuma county, it is understood that Sheriff Elect Greenleaf has Albert Behan slated, although Mr. Greenleaf could not be seen to-day to verify or deny this report.

There are other offices of minor importance to fill, and the filling of these will be watched with interest by all.
